

John Latham: Collections for a history of Romsey Hampshire Volume 4.

British Library Add Ms 26777

Transcribed by Pat Genge and revised by Phoebe Merrick, 2006

Monumental inscriptions, probably from the graveyard of Romsey
Abbey Church

Dating from 1663 to 1818

This is an extract from the Latham mss. The full transcript will be made available at a later date.

[BL Note: this volume has a very tight binding and while every effort has been made to reproduce the centres, force would result in damage]

Editorial conventions

1. Editorial notes are enclosed in square brackets.
2. The British Library numbered the right hand pages. In this text, the left hand pages have been described as [facing xx]
3. Surnames are reproduced as shown in the original manuscript.
4. Forenames have usually been extended e.g. Wm to William. However some names cannot safely be extended. For example Edw may be Edward or Edwin.

<sup>1</sup> Be prepared to follow me

To mind you of the heavenly way

<sup>3</sup> When thou has read the state of me
Think on the glass that runs for thee

<sup>4</sup> Eager death that will not be denied
And cut me off in love and from my bride
Let no one think he can repent too soon
I found it night before I thought it noon

<sup>5</sup> Happy the babes who privileged by fate
To shorter labour and a lighter weight
Received but yesterday the gift of breath
Ordered tomorrow to return to death

<sup>6</sup> [from page facing 84] 'Added in 1818'

<sup>7</sup> Why should fond parents mourn and weep
When lovely babes in Jesus sleep
Since they have reached that peaceful shore
Where storms and Tempests rise no more

<sup>13</sup>. Afflictions sore sometime I bore
Physicians were in vain
Till death did seize as God did please
To ease me of my pain

<sup>14</sup> My wife and friend pray shed not tears
The love you bear me shew my children dear
I should been glad with you to stay
But it pleased God to take me away.

<sup>15</sup> Now sinners reform your lives
Repentance do not delay
For these, none living that knows
How soon may be their dying day

<sup>16</sup> Our Flesh shall slumber in the ground
Till the last trumpet joyful sound
Then burst the chains with sweet surprise
And in our Saviour's image rise

<sup>17</sup> Fear not my soul be not dismay'd
For Jesus Christ my debt has paid

<sup>18</sup> Come gentle reader and draw near Come read a while and shed a tear
And ever when thou look'st on me
Think on the glass that runs for thee

<sup>19</sup> He was an affectionate husband, an indulgent father, a sincere Christian and mild and amiable in society.
He lived beloved and died lamented.

<sup>20</sup> Time swept by his o'erwhelming tide
My faithful partner from my side
And you of yours deprived may be
As unexpected as by me
Set then your Hearts on things above
Death soon will end all mortal love

Tho' here death's prostrate victim lies
 Twice in it; Saviour's image rise
 The darkness now this dust confine
 Twice then ten thousand suns outshine
 Tree by their fruits are known aright
 So the deceas'd we blessed the sight
 The fruit he bore was to heav'n allied
 And plenteous ripen'd when he died

<sup>73</sup> When life is gone and death is come
 Happy are they that have well done

<sup>74</sup> It was always my desire
 To sing with the celestial fire
 That I might join in praise of heav'nly host
 To Father Son and Holy Ghost

<sup>75</sup> While in this world I did remain
 My latter end was grief and pain but when the Lord He thought it best
 He took me to a place of rest

<sup>76</sup> Altho my body sleep my soul doth wake
 He that made both I hope with joy will take

<sup>77</sup> Humane and gentle affable and kind
 A plain but open honest mind
 He lived to die in Christ He put his trust
 To rise triumphant through him with the just

<sup>78</sup> Short was her life long is her rest
 Who would not die to be for ever blest

<sup>79</sup> This stone was erected by an affectionate Brother

<sup>80</sup> A faithful friend and Husband dear
 A tender father lyeth here

<sup>81</sup> I suffered long in trouble pain and grief and daily sought the Lord for his relief
 But I no help or death could have Till death did call me to my silent grave
 Therefore my spouse shed thou no tears
 the love thou bore me shew my children dear

<sup>113</sup> Reader by whatsoever motive led
 To read this frail memorial of the dead
 Remember life's uncertain transient breath
 And you e'er long must also yeild to death
 To make it happen would you wish to try
 Live but like them you need not feat to die.

<sup>114</sup> I was sent here so short to stay
 To mind you of the heavenly way

<sup>115</sup> A loving husband father dear
 A faithful Friend lie buied here
 I should been glad with you to stay
 But God was pleas'd to take me away

When this you see mourne not for me
'Twas God's appointed time

<sup>126</sup> Reader be mindful as you passeth by
That earthly glory quickly will decay
Not health nor strength nor youth from death can fly
But in a moment might become his prey.
